

Buy this: state of the art music system

Check out this earth-shaking wireless music system from Naim

With six speakers, 450W of power and an incredible digital audio brain, Mu-so packs a real punch. It can link to all sorts of devices and streaming services for the ultimate wireless speaker, designed by the people who create in-car audio systems for Bentley.

Naim Mu-so was fine-tuned by ear in the company's audio labs in Salisbury. It has the sound of a high-end analogue system but with all the connectivity you'd ever need.

It's made of high quality materials including anodised aluminium, glass, acrylic and wood, and it's controlled via the Naim iOS and Android app.

Check out Naim Mu-so in more detail at naimaudio.com/mu-so